Dr. Esten Mason

Genomics, Phenomics, and Bread, OH MY!

The Wheat Breeding Program at CSU has a rich history of developing wheat varieties adapted to the High Plains. New technology has been critical, including the use of genomics and diverse phenomic capabilities including a large testing network, drones, and baking lab. The integration of these tools will be presented.